The first ever jointly organized workshop on Child Protection will bring together social service workforce, professionals, experts and educators in Asian countries to share research, program models and reflect the case management practices, specifically in Cambodia.

EXPECTED OUTCOMES:

- World Social Work Day “Strengthening Intergenerational Solidarity for Enduring Wellbeing” celebrated immensely.
- Social service workforce learned on child protection and care models implemented in Asian countries.
- The Case Management practices in child protection in Cambodia informed and reflected upon.

Social service workforce with the right skills can provide better support and services to vulnerable populations like children and their family leading to improved client well-being.
